ONAFT selection committee meeting took place on April, 25.

The agenda for the meeting was to assess candidates who are participating in the call and to approve a list of nominated students.

Head of the selection committee professor Marina Mardar gave the general information about the call, specifically:

1. Information about the call for application was published on main website of ONAFT (<https://onaft.edu.ua/news/12>). Also, it was published on website of ONAFT International Collaboration Centre (<http://inter.onaft.edu.ua/1934/?lang=ru>).

2. Deadline of application submission was announced on April 16, 2018 12:00.

The selection criteria adopted are:

- Academic achievements (40%);
- Knowledge of English (25%);
- Motivation (15%);
- Social activity / involvement in scientific activities (10%).

It was also noted that the first criterion is academic merit. However, with equivalent academic level, preference would be given to candidates from less advantaged socio-economic backgrounds.

It was further stated that ONAFT has 3 scholarships for students. It was decided that these scholarships should be divided between 2 faculties.

These are faculties:

1. Faculty of Management, Marketing and Logistics.
2. Faculty of Grain Technology and Grain Business.

Faculty of Management, Marketing and Logistics were granted with 2 scholarships. Faculty of Grain Technology and Grain Business was granted with 1 scholarship.

From the former faculty 2 applications were received, from the latter faculty it was 1.
 Having considered all the applications provided, the selection committee decided to
